

County of Los Angeles Probation Department

OPERATION READ

Operation READ is a free tutoring program for youth that need help with reading, comprehension, and writing. It is a partnership with community based organizations, throughout the County of Los Angeles, working at schools, libraries, and other sites.

Tutors work with the youth in small groups, three-to-five hours per week providing a variety of instructional approaches to build essential literacy skills, while building relationships to inspire youth to "do their best". The program emphasizes learning through phonics, reading aloud and silently, interactive discussion to build critical thinking skills, and writing activities. Tutors strive to engage the youth and make learning fun.
